

Jefferson Scholars Foundation And Center for Graduate Fellows

SCI is the Structural Engineer of Record for the Jefferson Scholars Foundation and Center for Graduate Fellows located at the University of Virginia campus. The building consists of three distinct but connected structures. The commons area contains a greeting and assembly area. The foundation building contains offices for the foundation members and the academic building contains offices and study areas for the graduate students.

Jefferson Scholars Foundation and Center for Graduate Fellows

Location: Charlottesville, VA

Architect: VMDO Architects
Charlottesville, VA

Construction Manager:
Martin Horn,
Charlottesville, VA

Area: 27,400 ft²

Construction Cost: $11.5 M

Floor System: concrete on composite steel beams

Roof System: Exposed Glue-Lam Beams and Exposed
Wood Plank Decking

Lateral System: steel braced Chevron frames. Moment frames, and reinforced concrete masonry unit
shear walls

Completion Date: 2010